The creed of the Journal is not "do right," but is "do as we command."

The way winter lingers in the lap of spring is not only disgusting, but is growing positively indecent.

If the weather will permit the workmen to put in a few days at the park things will soon assume a very business like appearance.

President Roosevelt has incurred the enmity of some very powerful men and interests and the promised fight will be a merry one.

Harmony among the business interests of Falls City is the first essential towards progress. Combine harmony with intelligent industry and the secret is out.

If the onions won't grow, and the radishes won't sprout, and there were no flowers for May day, we had sleighing on Monday to atone in some measure.

The chautauqua management should awaken and tell the people what we are to expect in the way of a programme at the July assembly to be held in this city.

If the warm weather of March was occasioned by the earthquakes pushing us farther south, we would like to know who has been shoving us north during April?

It is about time for the business interest of this community to stand together in opposition to any man or set of men who permits personal malice to work destruction to the city as a whole.

The merchants whose names appear in this paper have something to say to you. They are not ashamed of their goods or prices and are out in the open with a message of bargains for you.

Here's hoping that Kansas City wins out in its fight to secure the republican national convention. If it will have any influence on the national committee The Tribune will assure a good crowd from Falls City.

One of the first acts of the new city administration should be to submit to the people the buying of the park and the issuance of bonds for that purpose in obedience to the commands of the caucus at which they were nominated.

The Journal is fighting the Gilligan company in the interest of the tax payers, to be sure. Of course there is nothing personal about it, but it would be interesting to hear from Johnny why he was in Beatrice with his little bundle of Journals doing the same thing up there. Has his great philanthropy room enough to take in the poor tax payers wherever the home company does business?

The writer never goes by the court house and sees the beautiful lawn without thinking of Alex Wherry, the man who made it possible while serving on the county board. What Alex Wherry did, John Hinton is doing, the improvements in the way of closets that are to be made this year have cost John Hinton two years of persistent effort. Of course William the apostle from Stella is trying to claim the credit, but John Hinton is the member that has accomplished the result.

"We dined in some of the finest hotels and restaurants, but did not find any coffee to excel in quality Arbuckle's ARIOS." That is what one lady writes and millions of others prove they believe, by using more Arbuckle's ARIOS Coffee than all the other packaged coffees in the United States put together.

The fact that Arbuckle's ARIOS Coffee costs less and has suited the health and taste of most American people for over 37 years, ought to induce everybody to at least sample it.

The cities hide many country girls and boys who secretly sigh for a cup of good coffee like "mother" made. "Mother" probably used the old original "Arbuckle's" the first roasted packaged coffee.

See that you get the sealed package, one pound full weight, bearing the name ARBUCKLE'S ARIOS COFFEE and the signature of Arbuckle Brothers, which entitles you to presents.

That is the genuine article, no matter where you buy it or what price you pay for it.

Same old Coffee, same old firm.
If your grocer won't supply, write to
